9783846007593 How does this work? Every phase of the production process is performed by hand and with great skill. Printing Transforming the design from a digital file to physical objects is an extremely detailed and complex process. For example, the pages of a typical book have to be assembled with extreme care to ensure that they are perfectly flat, that there are no creases or tears in the paper, and that the edges are straight and smooth. At Chime, as in book manufacturing, precision is key. The way our pages are assembled means that we can guarantee a very high standard of quality. We print on a very thin and delicate paper made from recycled trees. Then we treat the finished book with a special coating to ensure it stays clean and free from fingerprinting. Each copy of the book is embossed with its ISBN, barcode, and authors logo. Then we send the books to our carefully selected network of distributors and bookshops all over the world. Libraries Then, for libraries, the process is almost identical. We treat our books to ensure they stay free from smudges, fingerprints and contaminants, and we embed the ISBN, barcode, and authors logo. Then we distribute the books to our carefully selected network of distributors and bookshops. A global movement Finally, we move them to our shipping warehouses where they are packed with lots of love and care into smart crates which we then send to our distributors and bookshops. Each book is designed and printed by hand, so please order early if you are keen to save money. Discounts: Book orders of three or more books come with a discounted shipping rate! So, if you are looking for a 'huge' discount by ordering multiple copies, our shipping fees are calculated at a rate of £1.50 per book for all UK and European addresses or £2.00 per book for International addresses.The present invention is directed to a process for the production of carbon fiber-reinforced polymers.
